MISCELLANEOUS.

WANTED,
A Local Agent.
IN THE CITY OF MILWAUKEE AND VICINITY to take charge of a canvassing business for New Illustrated Publications of a national character, and published in numbers. These books are new, highly popular in the style of text and illustrations, and issued by the house of D. Appleton & Co. Four books are already published, and these will be followed by others of acknowledged merit. The business will be a permanent one, and fully require the attention of a smart, active man, besides several assistants as canvassers. One who has had some experience in the Number Trade preferred. The business is, however, easy of comprehension, and all those who engage in the sale of books in this way prefer it to selling books in a bound form. A good local agent in Milwaukee should earn for himself $20 per week.

Challenge Safes,
MANUFACTURED BY
HORNBACH & WAGNER, Milwaukee, Wis.
WE ARE NOW MANUFACTURING all sizes of these favorably known Safes, a specimen of which was recently subjected to a severe test by fire, and in the language of the Committee appointed on the occasion, "a severer one than ever before was given in this city. (See Report of the Committee below.)
This being certainly the most reliable Safe in this market, persons in need of this article will find it to their interest to examine our stock before buying elsewhere. All Safes provided with the best of locks, both powder and burglar proof. Prices moderate.

Trial of the Challenge Safe.
REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE.
We, the undersigned, citizens of this City, having acted as a Committee on the trial of one of the Challenge Safes manufactured by Hornbach & Wagner, of this city, yesterday afternoon, certify by this, that said Safe was placed on four small brick layers, twenty inches from the ground, surrounded by a circular wall about three feet distant from the Safe, and reaching more than a foot above it, and covered from all sides as well as from top and bottom by wood, thus filling the whole space between the Safe and the wall and some way upwards, with just four cords of wood. We having inspected the books, papers and bank bills that were placed in the Safe, fire was set to the pile of wood, and owing to a quantity of turpentine which had been poured on the wood-pile, the whole was in a short time all in a blaze. The flames then continued raging for an hour and a half around, above and below the Safe, melting off a solid brass knob of an inch and seven-eighths in thickness, and bringing the Safe to a red-hot heat, when we, the Committee, considering this a fully satisfactory trial, and one that a safe is unusually subjected to in case of conflagration, concluded to let an engine play on it. This was quickly brought in execution, the stream of water being directed against the Safe, and after it had thus been cooled off and the flames extinguished, to admit of approach, it was tried to be opened, which after some little time was effected, when in our presence the Safe was opened, and to the astonishment of all persons present, the articles deposited inside, including $15 in bank notes belonging to Mr. Ilsley, were found uninjured by fire, and only some of them slightly damped by the steam created by extinguishing the flames.
Fully convinced that the test said Safe was subjected to was a fully satisfactory one, and much severer than any ever before given in this city, we take the opportunity of recommending the Challenge Safes of Hornbach & Wagner to all who may stand in need of a safe-guard for their books, papers and other valuables, as a perfect security against all the depredations of fire.

Statistics of London.
Translated for the Eve. Post from the Triester Zeitung.

London covers at present a space of 122 square miles. It contains 327,391 houses, and 2,362,236 inhabitants, the annual increase of the population being upwards of 40,000. The length of the different streets is 1,750 miles. The paving of them cost £14,000,000, and the yearly cost of keeping the pavement in repair is £1,800,000.—London has now 1,900 miles of gas pipes, and the same length of water pipes. The introduction of gas cost £3,000,000. There are 360,000 burners in the city, which consume every month 12,000,000 cubic feet of gas, valued at £500,000, or two millions and a half of dollars.

The Bankers of London have under their control a capital of £64,000,000, and the different Insurance Companies have a cash capital of £78,000,000 in negotiable paper.

The tax on houses amounts yearly to £12,500,000. The furniture of these houses is insured to the amount of £166,000,000. Twenty thousand persons are constantly employed in keeping the docks in repair.

London consumes yearly 277,000 oxen, 30,000 calves, 1,480,000 sheep, and 34,000 hogs, worth all together, £7,000,000. London consumes every year 1,600,000 quarters of wheat, 65,000 pipes of wine, 2,000,000 gallons of brandy, 43,200,000 gallons of porter and ale, 19,215,000 gallons of water, and 3,000,000 tons of coal. It has 356 charity associations, which distribute every year £1,865,625 to the poor, which sum when increased by private charities will amount to £2,500,000. The city, from the showing of its official documents, has 143,064 persons who have no visible means of support. Among these are 4,000 vagabonds who cost the city £50,000 a year to support them. There are besides in London 110 professional house-breakers, 107 street thieves, 40 robbers, 783 pickpockets, 3,675 ordinary thieves, 11 horse thieves, 140 dog thieves, 3 forgers, 28 counterfeiters, and 317 individuals who live directly by the profits of this illicit trade, 141 swindlers, 172 people who speculate on charity with false documents, 343 receivers of stolen goods, &c., &c., in all, 162,000 criminals, who are known to the police, and who steal every year to the amount of £42,000.

HERE is a morsel that is richly Longfellowish, being a delicious caricature of that poet's style of inculcating lessons of wisdom, which is one of his Bostonian characteristics:

Never jumps a sheep that's frightened
Over any fence whatever,
Over wall, or fence, or timber,
But a second follows after,
And a third upon the second,
And a fourth, and fifth, and so on,
First a sheep and then a dozen,
Till they all, in quick succession,
One by one have got clear over,
So misfortunes, almost always,
Follow after one another,
Seem to watch each other, always,
When they see the tail uplifted,
In the air the tail uplifted,
As the sorrow leapeth over,
So they follow, thicker, faster,
Till the air of earth seems darkened,
With the tails of sad misfortunes.

TO-MORROW.—To-morrow is like a juggler that deceives us; a quack that pretends to cure us, and thin ice that will not bear our own weight. It is a fruit beyond our grasp; a glittering bubble that bursts and vanishes away; a will-o-the-wisp that leads many into the mire; a rock that many mariners have struck and suffered shipwreck. It is an illusion to all who neglect the present hour, and a reality to those only who improve to-day.

A Lawyer recently attempted to palm himself off as Rufus Choate in a neighboring town. At the suggestion of a printer, who was present, the "writing test" was applied to him. He wrote a legible sentence, and was promptly kicked out of the company.

On the sunny shores of Cape Cod they are raising the white Weymouth pine, from the seed, which is planted in hills like corn, where the soil will produce nothing else.

Judging from the enormous circumference of the dresses worn by young ladies of the present day, we feel inclined to the truth of the old saw, that "a miss is as good as a mile."

KANSAS MEETING AT WAUKESHA

There will be a public meeting of the Waukesha County Kansas Emigrant Aid Association, on Tuesday, the 29th inst., at 2 o'clock P. M., at the Congregationalist Church, in the village of Waukesha.

Professor DANIELS and others will address the meeting.

All persons intending to enroll their names with a view of removal to Kansas, are earnestly requested to be present. Also, all the friends of free men, free speech and free territory.

By order of the Executive Committee,
W. D. HOLBROOK, Sec'y.

From Our New York Correspondent.

NEW YORK, Monday, April 21, '56.

The European peace does not seem to produce on either side of the ocean the sensation upon the public funds, and upon commercial transactions and speculations, which was anticipated. In Paris—notwithstanding all friendly contrivances and appliances on the part of the government, and of the Bank of France, acting under the influence of the government, and which at once announced a decrease of 1 per ct. in the rate of discount as consequent upon the conclusion of the treaty—the stocks actually fell. In London, there was little or no rise, and no active operations; and here in New York, the only really manifest result of the cessation of hostilities is a fall in the prices of flour, which will now, it is assumed, be in less demand for exportation. Possibly all the effects of peace had already been realized before the formal signature of the treaty; and possibly, too, the absolute ignorance in which all the world outside of the negotiators and their respective governments remain, as to the real conditions of the peace, may give pause to the spirit of speculation. Whatever be the explanation, certain it is that no peace, terminating such a struggle as that between the Western Allies and Russia, has ever been before so unproductive of immediate and marked commercial activity.

We shall look this week for Mr. Buchanan, who is to be formally received by our Common Council, and who doubtless will make the most of such reception for the furtherance of his Presidential aspirations. The Administration party here, outside of the Custom House, Post Office and Marshalls office, is ready for any card that the deal at Cincinnati may turn up; but the office-holders talk at least as though Pierce was their choice, and even their hope. Personally I regard Mr. Buchanan as very lax indeed in political principle, and so ambitious of the Presidency as to be ready for any expedient almost that may promise to promote his success. His antecedents, habits, culture and tastes, are any thing but democratic; yet he goes as far as who goes farthest in his democratic professions, in which, to my eye, he always seems to me to be playing a part, and for the one prize of the Presidential chair. His mealy mouthed letter to Mr. Slidell about the repeal of the Missouri Compromise, which he regrets, but hold nevertheless to be binding, and not now to be disturbed, should, if there be any earnestness in the free spirit of Pennsylvania, or any true and extensive sympathy there with the views of their own Wilmot and Reeder, render his nomination inexpedient for even Pennsylvania.

Be the nominee of the Cincinnati Convention, however, who he may, if the opponents of the Slavery Propagand and the wrongs of Kansas be wise and united, they must choose the next President—for that is the only issue—FREEDOM, or the extension of Slavery; and upon that issue, I will not believe it possible for the people of the U. S. to make any mistake.

Our papers this morning announce the death of two men—both remarkable as Engineers and Mechanics—both inhabiting New Jersey—and each of whom, in positive services to his country and his race—in good works accomplished for the advantage of great public interests, far exceeding a host of such public servants as the Pierces, the Buchanans, the Douglasses, or other loud-mouthed demagogues; yet their deaths are recorded almost without a note of regret, while venal voices without number, and corporation sympathies "without regard to cost," (for the people pay,) would swell into turgid bombast and profitable panegyric over any one of such demagogues, if their span of life should be cut short.

ROBERT L. STEVENS, of Hoboken, the illustrious son of an illustrious sire, and both illustrious as working and thinking men only, and not by any political achievements or ambition, died yesterday morning at Hoboken; and on the preceding day, THOMAS RODGERS—the renowned and skillful engineer, who gave to the workshops of his firm—Rogers, Ketchum & Grosvenor—fame and wealth, in the production of unsurpassed machinery for factories of all sorts, in the construction of locomotives, and all the highest combinations of mechanical skill in the working of metals—Rogers was the founder of his own fortune and fame. Stevens succeeded both to fame and fortune, and largely added to both. At the time of his death he was busy in constructing a powerful floating steam propelled battery, for the defence of this harbor, for the U. S.; and indeed it was the consequence of some exposure during the severe weather of last month, while making experiments in gunnery for this vessel (firing a solid iron shot of 100 lbs. with a charge of 10 lbs. of powder, at 80 feet distance, against plates of iron such as his vessel is constructed of,) that he took cold, and this induced an attack of gout, and finally of paralysis, which has terminated his life.

He will be mourned as will his partner in death, by thousands of warm hearted men to whose strong arms they had given employment, and to whose career of labor, they had, as fellow-workers, imparted dignity; and it can only be under a most mistaken sense of the comparative value of such men, and of public men, the demise of whom is made an occasion of ostentatious public mourning, if they are not mourned by the nation too, as benefactors too early lost. It is somewhere said in substance by Gibbon, that "he forms an erroneous estimate of human suffering, who mourns more over the conflagration of a palace than the destruction of a cottage;" and in like spirit it may be confidently said that he forms an erroneous estimate of character who has more tears to shed over the death of party leaders and high public functionaries—such for the most part as now exist—than over that of the men of work and thought, as R. L. Stevens and Thos. Rogers.

NO JUDGE OF THE ARTICLE.—The News is of the opinion that truth is not to be found in the Sentinel. Doubtless we should feel greatly mortified at this ill opinion, if the News were good authority on the subject. But as it has not the slightest conception of what constitutes truth, and habitually ignores the use or existence of any such thing, we question its judgment in its premises.

THE ACCIDENT AT BEAVER DAM.—The Republican says that the name of the young man, who was killed by being crushed between the cars at the Depot in that village, on Wednesday last, was SEWELL COLBY, son of MOSES COLBY, of Hopkinton, New Hampshire. He was engaged in coupling cars and by some mischance, got between the bruisers, as the cars came together, and had his ribs broken from the backbone.

A Test for the "News."

The News, which professes such unbounded devotion for the rights and interests of Adopted Citizens, pleads the following excuse for not rebuking the course of the Democratic Representatives in Congress who voted first for Gov. SMITH, a K. N. Democrat from Virginia, and next for Gov. AIKEN, a K. N. Democrat from South Carolina:

If the Sentinel can produce anything ever said by Govs. Smith or Aiken which goes to prove them or either of them Know Nothings we will be among the first to condemn the act of supporting them.

Very well, by way of promise. Now let us see about the performance.

As to Gov. AIKEN, we call, as our first witness, the Wisconsin, which, as the personal and political friend of the News, will doubtless pass current with them. In the Wisconsin of March 6th, occurs the following editorial paragraph:

THE K. N. POSITION OF MR. AIKEN, THE PIERCE CANDIDATE FOR SPEAKER.—It turns out that it was Dr. A. K. Marshall, (K. N.) of Kentucky, who addressed Mr. Aiken the queries to which he responded so satisfactorily, that the Southern K. N.'s voted for Mr. Aiken.

"4th. Would you object to such a modification of our naturalization laws, as would require citizens of other countries to remain here before they become citizens of this country for a longer term than at present."

"Answer 4—I would not object to, but would favor a material extension of the naturalization laws."

Daniel Wells, Jr., the representative from this city, voted for Aiken.

We rest for the present. Does the News desire to cross-examine, or impeach this witness, or will it proceed, at once, to condemn those faithless Democratic Representatives who supported a K. N. for Speaker.

A GROSS MISREPRESENTATION.—A correspondent of the Daily American, whom that paper certifies to be "intelligent," writing from Stevens point, under date of the 22d inst, takes occasion to commend the course of the American, and then travels out of his way to misrepresent the other Milwaukee papers thus:

The course of the American as a newspaper without regard to politics, has won it many warm friends in this section. The other Milwaukee papers have always for us an insult or a sneer, while the American has treated our region of country with respect and liberality.

So far as the Sentinel is concerned—and we can safely add the rest of the Milwaukee Press—this charge of the American's correspondent is a wanton and unpardonable falsehood. The region of country, to which he refers, has ironically been treated by the entire Milwaukee press with the utmost "respect and liberality," and none but an ingrain "Know Nothing," or a reckless liar, would assert the contrary.

NEW ISSUES OF CITY BONDS.—At the meeting of the Common Council, Thursday evening, application was made for the issue of half-a-million of additional City Bonds, in aid of the following Railroad enterprises:

The Milwaukee and Superior R. R. Company, for $200,000.

The Fox River Valley R. R. Company, for $200,000.

The La Crosse and Milwaukee R. R. Company, for $100,000.

We understand that the Milwaukee and Beloit R. R. Company will also apply for $200,000 of City Bonds. The present amount of outstanding R. R. Bonds being something like a million and a half, we think it would be just as well for the Common Council, before issuing any more, to read over what the Mayor says in his Message on this subject and "make a note of it." There is such a thing as running our city credit into the ground. Whatever additional City Bonds are issued, should not only be amply secured, but justified, in the first place, by the character, prospects and management of the enterprise in aid of which they are asked. Otherwise they cannot be negotiated save at a heavy discount and to the serious damage of the city credit.

REPUBLICAN CLUB IN FOND DU LAC COUNTY.—The Republicans of Fond du Lac County have formed a county organization, with a member of the Executive Committee in each town. The officers elect are as follows:

President, Edward Beaver, Vice Presidents, H. D. Hitt of Oakfield, Secretary, J. W. Partridge, Treasurer, J. A. Smith.

The basis of the organization is the platform of 1854.

THE ICE IN THE STRAITS STILL FIRM.—By the following from the Chicago Press of Saturday, it will be seen that there is but little prospect of getting through the Straits of Mackinac for a fortnight yet. Such a warm rain as that of Saturday, it is reached that region, must have made a decided impression upon the ice:

NEWS FROM THE STRAITS.—THE ICE STILL SOLID.—The propeller Lady of the Lake, Capt. Rossman, left this port some days since for the Foxes, intending if possible to relieve the Crescent. We believe nothing could be done to effect the object. Capt. Rossman then sailed for the Beavers and left there on Wednesday last. He reports the ice all solid, with no prospect of the Straits opening much more the 10th of May. This will be discouraging news to a large number of our citizens, but it is better "to know the worst and to provide for it." Several vessels have cleared for ports below; but they will doubtless wait a few days at some convenient port and be ready to proceed as soon as the northern breezes shall sweep away the icy barriers from the Straits.

Lake Winnebago is at length released from the thraldom of its wintry coat and is now laughing and romping in the breeze like a frolicsome kitten.

Steamboats heavily laden with freight and passengers are performing their regular trips, giving life and activity to all kinds of business. Our youthful city is rapidly increasing in the number of its inhabitants, and notwithstanding the erection of more than one hundred dwellings within the last six months, the press of immigrants is such as to give such employment to the builders, as to give to the city the appearance of a great workshop.—Oshkosh Democrat.

THE COUNTY JUDGESHIP.—Judge Potter arrived in this place last Monday, and proceeded to Lyman Cowdry's office, and demanded the books and papers belonging to the office of County Judge.

Mr. Potter has been elected to to the office by the unanimous vote of the County; and to obviate all excuse in regard to the irregularity of the notice for the election, Gov. Bashford, upon knowledge of the gross unworthiness, nefarious and incapacity of Mr. Cowdry for such a place, removed him from the color of title to the office, given by the commission of Mr. Barstow, and appointed Mr. Potter in his place.

Mr. Cowdry refused to deliver the books and papers, saying he did not recognize Mr. Bashford as Governor. Mr. Potter proposed, for the sake of peaceful settlement, to leave the question to the decision of Justices Whiton or Smith, Judge Doolittle or Senator Walker. Mr. Cowdry claimed to be equal to the latter gentlemen, and at first consented to submit the case to Justice Smith. But after consulting his son-in-law of the Reporter, who said he would not consent to any such arrangement, he withdraw the offer.

Mr. Potter thereupon proceeded to Racine, made complaint to Judge Keep, and returned yesterday with an order in the nature of a quo warranto, citing Mr. Cowdry to appear before the Court in Racine, to-morrow, to show cause why he should not deliver the books and papers as required. This process was served by the Sheriff.

The result of the proceedings will be given next week.—Elkhorn Independent.

HON. C. C. WASHBURNE, of Wis.—We had the pleasure of a call from this gentleman yesterday, who appeared to be in good health. He is here on urgent private business, and will return in a short time to Washington. The good wishes of a well served constituency attend him.—Galena Advertiser, 24th inst.

From Our Washington Correspondent.

WILLARD'S HOTEL,
WASHINGTON, April 21, 1856.

Perhaps the most interesting discussion of the week was the debate in the Senate upon the admission of the memorial of the Kansas Legislature, which drew out a number of Senators on both sides. It has not been my fortune heretofore to listen to many of the speeches of Senator Douglas, who bore a principal part in this discussion, and certainly if insufferable annoyance of manner, and the most domineering tone of voice and feature are the foremost requisites for a Statesman and an Orator, the Illinois Senator will take his place on the front rank. Not that there was want of a certain kind of low cunning and trickery which, on the stump, or in a County pot-house, might be deemed effectual and appropriate; nor even at intervals, rare though they were, of a legitimate and tolerably well turned rejoinder to inconsiderate or careless statements on the other side; yet the whole was so veneered (if I may use the term) with brazen effrontery and insolence, was so mixed and smothered up with unblushing denials of well attested facts, and re-assertions of equally well attested fictions, that it was impossible not to feel satisfaction at the bold and scathing replies of Senators Wade from Ohio and Wilson of Massachusetts, the former of whom was especially spirited and strong. Had the Massachusetts Senator one half the debating skill and readiness of Mr. Douglas, the victory would have been far more complete—for never adversary laid himself more open to overwhelming retort—as for instance, in claiming for himself and his friends the unwillingness to mix the blood of the white man with that of the negro, which Mr. Douglas charged as a characteristic of "Black Republican principles," ignoring with the coolest assurance the fact (than which none is more notorious) that practical amalgamation at the South is the rule, while at the North it is the very rare exception. There was more than one look of awkward astonishment on the faces of Southern Senators, as Mr. Douglas laid down this principle, so utterly at variance with well known practice; and it should have been put back upon him with irresistible effect and force. This talk about amalgamation, said Mr. Wilson, generally comes from men themselves steeped in the odour of amalgamation, and the polated finger and significant look left no room for doubt as to the application of the remark.

Nevertheless the Senate refused to receive and print the memorial of the Kansas Legislature—which is thus denied a hearing, that will not be refused however in the house of the People's representatives, and there the battle must now be fought. A bill for the admission of the free State of Kansas will soon be introduced, passed, and sent to the Senate for the approval or rejection of that body—it matters little which, for the appeal, in case of rejection, lies to the people, and before that great tribunal, the good cause must prevail.

The discussion of the House has been mostly confined to the details of the Deficiency bill, in relation to many of which there is disagreement with the Senate. The harbor and river appropriation bills, from the Committee of Commerce, are all in shape and will this week be reported back to the House, in many cases with elaborate and valuable reports, setting forth the value and extent of the internal commerce of the country. In this matter Wisconsin is specially interested, and the able reports of Mr. Washburne of Illinois, upon the Mississippi and its tributaries, and of Mr. Wade, of Ohio, upon the Northern and North-Western lakes, will well repay attentive perusal, from the abundance and accuracy of their statistical and other information. Of Wisconsin harbors, the bill for Milwaukee asks for $35,000, for Kenosha $31,000, for Racine $11,000, while in the case of Sheboygan, the balance remaining of a former appropriation will probably be turned over to the county authorities, to be expended by them, together with the much larger amount raised by its own spirited citizens. This has been pressed by Mr. Billinghurst, and in all probability will be concurred in by Congress. I will compile for my next letter a list of all the appropriations for rivers and harbors for the West and North-west.

The past week has been a very gay one. On Thursday Mr. Speaker Banks gave his first official entertainment at the old Hamilton House, to which he has removed. A large number of the most distinguished gentlemen, with many ladies, graced the assemblage, and with fine music, a well served and handsome repast and most gracious welcome from the lady of the mansion, as well as from the Speaker, it was a brilliant and pleasant scene to look upon.

In the musical way, too, we have been favored, Parodi with Strakosch and his clever wife having given two concerts, which were fully attended.—These admirable artists are no strangers to your intelligent readers, and excited great enthusiasm here, especially in the Marseillaise and the Star Spangled Banner, which were both given with unsurpassed spirit and effect. Strakosch as a pianist, too, was warmly received and encored again and again, and there was very general regret that their engagements were such as not to allow the troupe to give any more of their concerts for the present.

At the Theatre, Miss Pine and Harrison have drawn crowded houses to see English Opera—They are both favorites, and deservedly so, the lady in particular, possessing a sweet, clear voice, and wonderful flexibility and power of execution while as an actress she is very clever. Mr. Harrison has a fine tenor voice, a handsome, manly person, and all the experience to insure the success which seems to have invariably attended his efforts.

Saturday a large number of the members of both Houses, with the President, a portion of the Cabinet and many ladies, visited the new U. S. steam frigate Merrimac at Annapolis. Her yards were manned, a salute fired, and subsequently a sham fight arranged which, though rather deafening, seemed to give general satisfaction. A bountiful repast had been prepared in the cabin and the company returned with great admiration of the beauty and power of this noble ship, which had just been ordered to the Mediterranean, where she will afford another evidence of the advance of mechanical skill in the United States, and will not suffer from comparison with the finest steamers afloat of any nation or flag.

THE TURN OF THE SPECIE TIDE.—With the turn of the Infantry of France and England with their backs to the rising sun in the Crimea, and the "forward!" given to all the beleaguerers of Sebastopol on their countermarch to their Western homes, turns also the specie tide from the East to the West. The war ebb of money from London and Paris has ceased. The tide which took away three hundred millions of dollars, is on the flow backward. It will make high water, monetarily speaking, farther West than the Bourse and London 'Change. New York will feel it, and all places between New York and the Missouri's sources. Australia's gold and California's, will rest now in the work-shops of England, and the ateliers of France, Belgium, Germany, and Italy, and will aid to swell the specie tide resultant from the Crimea and Turkey.

In our State the significant sign of "flush" times presented by the addition of twenty new banking institutions within the current fiscal year to those already existing, is noteworthy. In London consols are on the rise—stocks advance—the trade to the continent expands. In Paris the rate of interest declines, and manufactures receive a new impulse. The flood tide is sounding.—Albany Eve. Journal, April 23.

Alanson Douglas, deceased, of Troy, whose death was announced last week, left a very large property, variously estimated at from $300,000 to $1,000,000. His income from his property during the year 1855 exceeded $100,000. His whole life from early manhood to old age, was devoted to money—getting and keeping it.

The "ruling passion" was "strong" to the last. After bequeathing $140,000 to each of his children, and making a handsome bequest to three Episcopal churches in Troy, Mr. Douglas reminded his family that he had a verbal agreement with his milkman, which was to continue as long as they took milk from him, that for every dollar's worth of tickets, one was to be thrown in! The milkman acknowledged the corn, and said he had rather expected, in the hurry of business, that Mr. Douglas would forget the "baker's dozen" bargain.

A Suggestion for Doughfaces.

The ensuing Presidential canvass, which will probably determine the fate of the Union, will turn almost solely on the question of state equality. None can consistently or effectively contend for state equality, who do not hold that the institutions of the south, and the social forms of the south, are equally rightful, legitimate, moral, and promotive of human happiness and well-being, with those of the north. If the slave society be inferior in these respects to free society, and of the south are wrong and criminal in proposing to extend it to new territory, and the north right in exerting itself to the utmost to prevent such extension.—Charleston Mercury.

The issue is here fairly stated, and no man can look forward to the contest without a feeling of conviction that slavery or freedom must triumph or fall in the ensuing campaign. There is no other question before the American people. All the great democratic measures for which we have combatted for years, and have withstood in their defence the combined assaults of the enemies of democracy, are now acquiesced in and incorporated with the traditional policy of the government. The National Bank, the Tariff, and the Sub-Treasury, are questions as definitely settled as the annexation of Texas. All other and minor considerations are now swallowed up in the absorbing question of slavery extension.

It is perfect folly to attempt to conceal this fact. Squatter sovereignty is merely a blind to hide this, the worst of all iniquities perpetrated against freedom, and if admitted as the test point at issue, amounts to neither more nor less than a practical realization of the south's most cherished scheme. In the language of the Mercury, "none can consistently or effectively contend for state equality [or non-intervention] who do not hold that the institution as the south and the social forms of the south are equally rightful, legitimate, etc., with those of the north." We must therefore—all northern men must—democrats and whigs, know-nothings and abolitionists, in the approaching contest, either fight for freedom or slavery; and there is no dodging this issue. The "dodging" process has been tried long enough. The democracy has tried it; the whigs have tried it, and lastly, the know-nothings tried it on at Philadelphia, and all with the same result. The south will not permit it to be ignored. It insists upon forcing the question upon the attention of the north, in all places and upon all occasions—in the parlor, the railroad car, the steamboat saloon, the legislature forum and the pulpit. It is a high time to meet it, and meet it we must, without shrinking. There never was a time when it was pressed with so pertinacity as at present, and the decision of the question whether slavery or freedom is hereafter to be the settled policy of the nation, we repeat, must be made before the close of the present year. In the disposal of this subject, every individual will be held strictly accountable for the result of his action in the premises.—Buffalo Republic (dem.)

LOWER TOWN OF PRAIRIE DU CHIEN.—Directly opposite McGregor lies a neat cluster of houses surrounded by an extensive margin of vacant blocks and lots known as Lower Town. No pleasanter location can be found in Wisconsin or elsewhere. In front of this portion of our public is a steamboat landing, capacious enough for quite a fleet of boats and easily accessible at any stage of water. The solid men of Galena and Dubuque would pay more than we care to guess for half as good a harbor in either of their cities. This harbor can be easily and indefinitely enlarged by building levees, out to the main channel, but in a state of nature it is not equal to the upper landing, which in fact has no equal for capaciousness and facility of access, along the Upper Mississippi. For this reason the business of Prairie du Chien has been done heretofore, for the most part at the Upper Town. In the mean time the Lower Town has been probably the drowsiest place between the North Pole and Cape Horn. Goldsmith's deserted village was a perfect emporium—a London—a La Crosse—compared with the more than subbatical fastiliness of Lower Town.

Lately this somnolent locality has begun to show signs of waking up, and, in a short time, if we mistake not, Lower Town will be one of the most thoroughly wide awake places in Wisconsin. When the approach of the M. & M. R. R. began to turn the people's attention toward Prairie du Chien, the extraordinary beauties of Lower Town as a site for residences did not escape notice, and the owners of the soil in that neighborhood were astonished to find their land sought after at prices slightly in advance of the Government price. (Uncle Sam originally gave the land away.) Subsequently it was announced that the Railroad Depot was to be located at the lower landing. Lower Town then began to be looked to as a favorable site for business places, as well as residences, and the price of property there has at last reached a figure that one is not ashamed to name in connection with his place of residence. Lots laying from six to thirty dollars a foot, prices are steadily advancing and sales are extensive and frequent. Some of the most enterprising men in the country are interested there, active preparations are going forward for extensive improvements and altogether the prospects of Lower Town are cheering indeed.—Prairie du Chien Courier.

JUST A WORD.

When the battle is set, we who stand for Free Kansas will all put together, and any one who low proclaims that he will have such a candidate, or won't have such another, is only damaging the man of his choice in case that choice should be ratified by a majority of his compatriots, or preparing a mortification for himself in case it should be overruled.

There is no warrant for a presumption that the Philadelphia Convention will nominate candidates who are not heartily and wholly with us on the great controlling issue. And what more can any one require? Are we so sure of success that we can afford to disregard all considerations of popularity or availability? Nay: have we any moral right to overlook such considerations?

To us, the Cause is far above any man or clan. Our first question is, "Where is the man who can most probably lead the Republicans to victory "and secure Kansas to Freedom?" That man, whatever his name or his antecedents, is our candidate. We are willing to hear reasons why this or that person is likely to be stronger in the popular vote than others; but anything calculated to disaffect and alienate any portion of our compatriots, in case the nomination should be adverse to the writer's wishes or judgement, we are unwilling to publish and disinclined even to hear.—N. Y. Mirror, April 23.

A HARD SPECH TO ANSWER.—The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Republican, tells the following story, only too illustrative of the treatment which the Red Man has received at the hands of his white brother.

"We met Col. Stambourg to-day in the rotunda of the Capitol, and while we were looking at the carved representations over the door ways of the rotunda, the veteran Indian Agent told us that in 1830, with the delegation of Monomonee Indians, he visited the Capitol, and explained the nature and design of the stone groups in the rotunda, when the chief, "Grizzly Bear," turned to the eastern doorway, over which there is a representation of the landing of the Pilgrims, and said "There Ingen give white man corn;" and to the north, representing Penn's treaty,—"There Ingen give um land;" and to the West, where Pocahuntas is seen saving the life of Capt. Smith, "there Ingen save um life;" and lastly, to the south where the hardy pioneer, Daniel Boon, is seen plunging his knife into the breast of one red man, while his foot rests on the body of another—"and there white man kill Ingen."

KENOSHA RAILROAD.—During the past week Messrs DeGraff & Jamieson our Western Railroad Contractors, have been here letting contracts upon the work, and making other necessary arrangements toward starting. The officers of the road have been exceedingly active and are doing everything possible for the furtherance of the enterprise. Just as soon as circumstances will be moving ahead, we hope never again to stop until the last rail is rivited to its bed.—Kenosha Democrat.

COMMERCIAL.

THE MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY SENTINEL,
MILWAUKEE, April 28, 1856.

Very light receipts on Saturday by Railroad. Part of a cargo of oats from Chicago. The drenching rain storm effectually stopped all outside work. No sales to note.—We continue our quotations without change.

We learn from gentlemen who have been making enquiries in the neighborhood of Oconomowoc and Watertown, and the country between, that the quantity of winter wheat in the ground is large, and looks well, almost without exception. The Kenosha Democrat says:

"We were told by several farmers, that not only is there more wheat sown in this county this spring than ever before, but the most of it is got in in much better condition; and that so far, the season has been quite propitious.—Most of our farmers are through with their wheat-sowing for this spring."

The rain of Saturday must have done vast good to the crops in the ground, and in the way of seeding the roads.

Chicago Market.

CHICAGO, April 25.

AS A SPRING AND SUMMER MEDICINE Carter's Spanish Mixture stands pre-eminent above all others. Its singularly effective action on the blood, its strengthening and vivifying qualities, its tonic action on the liver, its tendency to drive all humors to the surface, thereby cleansing the system according to Nature's own prescription; its harmless, and at the same time extraordinary purifying effects, and the number of cures testified to by many of the most respectable citizens of Richmond, Va., and elsewhere, must be to convince everybody that there is no humbug about it.

The trial of a single bottle will satisfy the most sceptical of its merits.

A HUMAN LIFE SAVED.

Bowdoinham, Me., March 11, 1856.

J. A. RHODES, Esq.—Dear Sir:—As I took your medicine on consignment, "no cure, no pay." I take pleasure in stating its effects as reported to me by three brothers who live in this place, and their testimony is a fair specimen of all I have received.

W. S. OWENS told me—"I had taken nine bottles of Cherokee Ague Balsam, and continually run down while using it until my lungs and liver were congested to that degree that blood discharged from my mouth and nostrils, so that at the right it impossible for me to live through another chill. The doctors, too, told all they could for me, but thought I must die. Nothing did me any good at all. I got Rhodes' Fever and Ague Cure, which at once relieved me of the distress in nausea at my stomach and pain in my head and bones, and produced a permanent cure in a short time."

H. M. COMBS says—"I had been taking medicine of a good a doctor as we have in our county, and taken any quantity of quinine and specifics without any good result, from 25th August to 17th December. But seeing how much it operated on my brother, I got a bottle of RHODES' FEVER AND AGUE CURE, which effected a permanent cure by using one bottle and a bottle."

Mr. COMBS was not here, but both the other brothers say his case was the same as H. M.'s. I sold the medicine to both the same day, and the cure was as speedy from the same small quantity, and I might say specify.

Yours with respect, A. HUNTINGTON.

The above speaks for itself. Good proof as it is it is of no better nature than a vast number of like certificates I have already published, and the still greater amount that is continually pouring in to me.

One thing more. Last year I had occasion to caution the public in these words:

"I notice one from who have told on one of my general circulars, substituted the name of their own in for my medicine, and then with brazen impudence and their pamphlet with the exclamation, 'Let the proprietors of any other medicine say as much if he dare,' &c.

Now I take pleasure in saying that the Caution referred to the same "Dr. Christie's Ague Balsam" that is mentioned in the above certificate.

There are several other infamous people who are applying to their poisonous trash all that I push shout my Fever and Ague Cure, or Antidote to Malaria, except the Certificates of Cures, and the cart flaute of the celebrated Chemist, Dr. James R. Chilson, of N. Y., in favor of his HARMLESS CHARACTER, which is attached to every bottle. These will always serve to distinguish my medicine from imitations. JAS A. RHODES, Proprietor,
